

JEDD Talks

JUICE ENVIRONMENTAL DEEP DIVE
 JUICE MATTERS WORTH SHARING

Nature Works: The Case for Promoting Biodiversity

SCAN ME

Land use change and pesticide use associated with modern agriculture are major drivers of biodiversity loss. Given the increasing awareness of natural enemies and pollinators to safeguard food production, what role can we play in reversing biodiversity decline in our supply chains?

Join us in the first in a series of environmental lectures to hear how innovative nature-based solutions from Europe, Africa and the Americas are bucking the trend.

